CARDINAL BULLETIN
September 18, 1979

The Fighting Cardinals received high praise from Washington University head coach Chris Gianoulakis. Chris mentioned by telephone Monday afternoon that the Cardinals were probably one of the better ball clubs they would see this season. He also mentioned that both of their units, offense and defense, were extremely sore and bruised. To say the least, our coaching staff was pleased with the hard hitting affair and cannot help but be excited about the improvement in fundamentals and techniques.

Our coaching staff is constantly stressing that very few things in life worth having come easily. That particular saying will be applicable to most everything our young men attempt in future years. There is no place where it applies more than with a young athlete attempting to achieve success in the academic area and on the football field. There simply is not an easy way to accomplish this. If our young men want to be at the top and be a member of a championship team they must have the willingness to pay the price in hard work.

The success that will be achieved against Benedictine this Saturday will be in proportion to the intensity and progress that is made in the next three days of practice.

The Benedictine Ravens have won five games in a row against the Cardinals. Their defense is lead by linebacker Tom Giesecking and defensive backs Kevin Bachkora, Rich O'Dwyer and Mike Reiker. Offensively the Rams are led by junior quarterback Jerry Relliham and tight end Russel Hynes.

SPECIAL NOTES

COACHES BREAKFAST - 7:00 - 8:00 a.m. in the Seminole Room at the Breckenridge Inn. Guest football players will be James Merrell, senior defensive halfback and Mike Hogan, senior offensive guard. Larry Wilcox, Benedictine head football coach, will also be a guest.

PLEASE NOTE: If you have forgotten to send in your check for your season tickets it is important that you do so at your earliest convenience.

THE CARDINAL FOOTBALL PARENT'S CLUB invites everyone to join them for a tailgate picnic this Saturday evening at 6:00 p.m. in the grassy area between the faculty parking lot and the road going to the stadium. Bring a blanket and food and soft drinks for your own group.
