TATION TO THE PROPERTY OF THE PARTY OF THE P

WELCOME FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

On behalf of NAIA's 526 member institutions, we salute the two finalists who are participating in today's Division II national championship.

The NAIA is comprised of colleges and universities that have elected to compete in intercollegiate athletics as an integral part of the total educational program, subject to the same aims, policies, and objectives as other departments and programs. Intercollegiate athletic programs in NAIA institutions are not administered through a corporate structure, or as an entertainment or public relations entity. Publicly supported and privately endowed NAIA institutions have particular needs and aspirations relative to the conduct of their sports programs. By continuing to meet these needs, the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics has remained a strong, viable voice for the nation's smaller, fully-accredited four-year colleges for four decades.

We thank all of those present for your loyal support which makes possible this game. It is our conviction that today's championship game will reinforce the NAIA belief that educationally sound collegiate sports can help in character and citizenship development and develop leadership.

LINFIELD COLLEGE

Charles U. Walker, President

Linfield College has prospered during the presidency of Dr. Charles U. Walker. Since 1975 when Dr. Walker arrived, enrollment has climbed from 850 to 1,283 students; the college has joined forces with Good Samaritan Hospital and Medical Center in Portland to create the Linfield-Good Samaritan School of Nursing; International Study Centers have been set up in France, Austria, Japan and Costa Rica, and enrollment of foreign students has increased from less than one percent to nearly five percent; a new science building, Murdock Hall, has been constructed and an athletic complex is planned next; a Department of Continuing Education has been established; and new majors added in Systems Analysis and Creative Writing. Dr. Walker came to Linfield from Russell Sage College, Troy, N.Y., where he served as president from 1970-75. He was also vice president and dean of Hamline University, St. Paul, Minn., and dean of men and assistant professor of English at Rockford College, Rockford, Ill. Dr. Walker earned his Ph.D. in education and Latin American Studies from Stanford University, his master's from Columbia University and his bachelor's from the University of Pittsburgh. Dr. Walker has also been actively involved in a variety of professional and civic organizations.

AD RUTSCHMAN, Director of Athletics and Head Football Coach

Ad Rutschman's wonderously successful playing and teaching career has been closely interwoven with the Linfield College athletic tradition. Fresh out of Hillsboro (Ore.) High School's football and baseball programs, young Rutschman found the gridiron on the Linfield campus to his liking. During his college career, Rutschman received 12 varsity letters, four each in football, basketball, and baseball, while setting the school record for rushing. A professional career with the Detroit Lions failed to hold Rutschman away from Oregon and coaching for long. Coaching at Hillsboro, he won one state football crown and three state baseball titles during a 13-year tenure. He returned to Linfield and the head football coaching job in 1968. As head football coach, and later head baseball coach (1971) and athletic director (1975), Rutschman has given added depth and dimension to Linfield College's proud tradition of athletic excellence. Rutschman has compiled a football record of 109-30-2, sixth in winning percentage among active NAIA coaches. Rutschman-coached teams have won 10 Northwest Conference championships, finished second on four other occasions, and participated in four NAIA national playoffs. In 1978, the coach received the Slats Gill "Oregon Man of the Year" award, the most prestigious athletic honor in the state.

General Information

While Linfield is anywhere its learning experiences exist—an outpost in Oregon's Cascade Mountains, a sister college in Japan, European cathedrals—the main campus is located in McMinnville in the rich Willamette Valley of Oregon. McMinnville, a community of 15,000 townsfolk, has been named ecologically "one of the seven most pleasant places to live in the United States" by the U.S. Department of Interior. Twenty-five miles from Salem, Oregon's capitol city, and 35 miles from the metropolitan center of Portland and its many cultural and sporting events, McMinnville offers the best of rural and urban living—plus the advantages of seashore and mountains one hour away by automobile.

Linfield, the second oldest institution of higher education west of the Mississippi, came to life in 1849 and soon moved to the protective arms of the American Baptist Church. While the church's ideals of caring for others continue to play an important role in the Linfield experience, the college is not bound by religious requirements. Today, there are 1283 students studying at Linfield. They come from widely diverse political, religious, and economic backgrounds reflecting the pluralism of contemporary society. While many are native to the American Northwest, most states in the nation are represented on campus, as are 24 foreign countries.

The Time-Life publication, Money Magazine, ranks Linfield as one of the top 10 colleges in the country from the standpoint of quality of education at an affordable price. The Academy of Sciences ranks Linfield virtually in the top five percent of colleges in the nation based on the number of its graduates who go on and complete PhD degrees.

National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics

The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) is a completely autonomous association, currently administering programs of intercollegiate athletics in 515 fully accredited four-year colleges and universities. The fundamental tenent of the NAIA is that intercollegiate athletics is an integral part of the total educational program of the institution. This belief is strongly reflected in the governing documents, activities and organizational structure of the Association.

PURPOSE AND HISTORY

Established in 1940 as the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball, the NAIA (the name change coming in 1952) emanated from a "National Small College Basketball Tournament" inaugurated in 1937 in Kansas City Missouri. The conversion of the NAIB to the NAIA in 1952 included the expansion of the program to include national championships in golf, outdoor track and field and tennis. Football, cross country, baseball and swimming were added to the ledger in 1956 and wrestling (1958), soccer (1959), bowling (1962 - 1978), gymnastics (1964), indoor track and field (1966), ice hockey (1968), volleyball (1969 - 1979), and Division II football (1970), are the most recent additions. The initial purpose of the NAIA — to provide national championship opportunities to colleges and universities competing below the so-called "major" level — has indeed been well served.

NAIA organizes and administers all areas of intercollegiate athletics at the national level, including rules and standards, and district and national sports competition.

The NAIA clearly outlines its own responsibilities and those of its members: a sound athletics program, administered and controlled by those responsible for the administration of the college. This means direct supervision in the matter of caliber of competition, financing of the athletics program, and taking steps to assure that financial assistance is made available only through the institution and under the same general policies as aid to all students. In short, the basic premise is that the athletics program must be a basic component of the overall general educational process within the institution, and not an entity apart.

The NAIA encourages a broad program of athletic pursuits in its member institutions, and making the program available to the greatest possible number of students. The national organization aims at uniformity and equity in policies and practices through its district and national tournaments and meetings.

Eligibility rules in the NAIA govern all play in all sports recognized by the Association, not just postseason tournaments, and must be adhered to by all members, including members holding dual affiliation with other associations.

HOW ADMINISTERED

The principal governance body of the NAIA is the Executive Committee, composed of 11 persons elected by the membership, and the Executive Director (exofficio). This committee is responsible for establishing policies and determining the overall direction of the Association.

The NAIA is organized into 32 geographic districts spread over the 50 states and including two Canadian members. Each district is governed by a District Executive Committee, the chief officer of which is the District Chair. Representation on the District Executive Committee includes one committeeperson for each three active member schools, or major fraction thereof, in the district. The District Chair is elected for a three-year term by a vote of the active membership within the District.

The District is the basic unit of the NAIA. The District Executive Committee establishes a program of District championship events in the various sports. Individual and team District champions are certified to compete in Bi-District Area and / or National championships by virtue of winning the District event or by meeting qualifying standards established within the particular sport.

Women's Division — Effective August, 1980, the NAIA instituted a championship event program for women through its newly-established Women's Division. Nine championships for women were offered during 1980-81 and 1981-82. The NAIA decision to offer competitive opportunities and championship events for women followed two years of consideration by the membership and proposals developed by a committee on women's athletics. The general membership passed the proposal by mail vote in May, 1980.

MEMBERSHIP ELIGIBILITY

Any four-year, degree-granting college or university in the United States and Canada, fully-accredited by the member accrediting agencies or commissions of the Council on Postsecondary Accreditation, may become an active member. Institutions may become members of the NAIA at any time but schools sending in membership dues after the deadline of October 15 will not be considered as active members and will not be eligible to participate in District, Area and National events until the next eligibility reporting deadline following payment of dues. Those reporting deadlines are: October 15, February 1 and April 15.

OBLIGATION OF MEMBERSHP

Member institutions must conduct their intercollegiate athletic programs to the standards of the regulatory Association in which they hold memberships, and the NAIA. They must pay the annual membership dues and be in support of the policies of the Association. Where institutional rules and standards are stricter than those of the regulatory group or the NAIA, those rules and standards of the insitution are recognized and supported by the NAIA.

Hard Work Pays!

"I believe in work. I think it's still true in today's world that a willingness to work hard solves most problems. If you want to accomplish something, you have to work at it. If I had to point to a basic reason for our success, it would be that we do a job on fundamentals, and we work hard."
